

DECLARATION ON A POSSIBLE CONFLICT OF INTEREST

Dear Authors,

the journal Hygiene & Medizin publishes a statement on a possible conflict of interest for all articles in the sections "Original article", "Review" and "From the field". The indication of possible conflicts of interest serves to improve transparency for the editorial staff and, above all, for the readers. Of course, a possible conflict of interest alone does not normally speak against the scientific statements of a manuscript.

Explanation

A possible conflict of interest according to the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals of the ICMJE (International Committee of Medical Journal Editors) exists whenever an author has financial or personal relations with third parties, whose interests could be affected positively or negatively by the manuscript. With regard to material conflicts of interest, this would include, inter alia, financial links with manufacturers whose products are directly or indirectly affected in the article. Such a company would be, for example, a pharmaceutical company that manufactures or distributes a drug mentioned in the manuscript, or a competing product. Financial links are, for example: employment relationships, consulting activities, shareholdings, fees for lectures, travel expenses, study support or other third-party funds.

Non-material conflicts of interest exist, for example, when there are close personal links with someone whose economic or ideal concerns are affected by the article (partnership, family relationships, etc.).

This statement relates to the present and the past five years.

We need a signed declaration from each author of a manuscript.
